DESCRIPTION OF FAIRFIELD, IOWA.

ELDA County seat of Jefferson County, Iowa, situated in one of the most beautiful and fertile sections of eastern Iowa. Located on the main line of C., B. & Q. R. R., between Chicago and Omaha, and on a branch of C., R. I. & P. R. R., between Chicago and Kansas City, giving unsurpassed railroad facilities. Population about 1,000—a most excellent class of people. Literary, educational and social advantages in first order. The city has a complete system of Water Works, and is brilliantly lighted by electricity. Schools, Colleges and Public Library are unsurpassed in the State, making a specially attractive place for a home.
